Lord Dhanvantari is an avatār or incarnation of Lord Viṣṇu (Vishnu). He is the Hindu deity of medicine and healing. He appeared on earth at the time of the churning of the milky ocean and manifested with a pot of elixir as described in The Bhāgawata Purāṇa.

He is also called the God of Ayurveda.

It is believed that when one prays to Lord Dhanvantari, one can gain strength to sustain oneself in this material world, both at the physical and mental levels. His pot of elixir contains all herbal ingredients and when He is thus invoked, He blesses us with a strong and healthy body with enhanced immunity.

Some devotees also worship Lord Dhanvantari as a means to attain immortality through the removal of ignorance - He is called upon as the destroyer of māyā (Sarvāmaya Vināśanāya).

A short pūjā (ritual) at the main altar to Śrī Ganeṣa followed by chanting of the 108 names of Dhanvantari, with flower offerings.

Simultaneously, in your own home, you can offer 108 flower petals or akṣta (rice) to an image of the Lord, sent by us, which you can download.

Concluding with a short homaṃ or fire ritual and āratī.

Live Chanting by Sriram Swami, renowned priest from Bengaluru, India and Live Pūjā conducted by Shubhrajī

On January 15, 2023, a pūjā will also be performed on behalf of all participants at the 12th century Sri Veera Narayana Temple, India by Archakam Prashant Bharadwaj.
