MORNING TALKS

Footsteps to Freedom:
Vedānta Teachings from

NEWCOMERS ARE WELCOME

Revered as sacred revelations, the Upaniṣads (5000-4000 BCE) are said to contain the key to life.

This series of four talks presents the contemplative teachings on Self-Knowledge and its relevance to our own lives in a systematic way.

Kaivalya Upaniṣad belongs to the Atharvaveda. The word Kaivalya means “only That”. It gives a complete picture of the state of inner freedom achieved through meaningful renunciation.

The Upaniṣad teaches us effective techniques to meditate and gives a clear understanding of how to carve out a spiritual path in everyday life.

MONDAY-THURSDAY
SEPTEMBER 14–17
8:00 AM–9:00 AM

EVENING TALKS

Vedānta and AI:
Can a Machine Ever Be Conscious?

As Artificial Intelligence becomes smarter, faster, and more human-like, one question stands above all others: Can a machine ever be truly conscious? Join Shubhrajī for a thought-provoking exploration of AI through the timeless wisdom of Vedānta, as we examine consciousness, free will, identity, and what it really means to be alive. Discover why these ancient teachings may hold the key to one of the greatest questions of our time.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16
6:30 PM–7:30 PM

WHY MORE IS NEVER ENOUGH:
DISCOVERING THE OCEAN MIND
Based on verses from the Bhagavad Gita

Why do achievement, possessions, and success so often leave us wanting more? The Bhagavad Gita offers a timeless vision of the “ocean mind”—a mind that remains full, peaceful, and undisturbed even as life’s experiences flow in and out. Discover practical wisdom for cultivating lasting contentment, inner freedom, and fulfillment in a world that constantly urges us to seek more.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18
6:30 PM–7:30 PM

You are welcome to attend any or all of the talks.
The teachings are free.
Donations are welcome and appreciated.
